Known issue to be aware of: If you are a group member, and you send a message to the group, you will not receive a copy of the message in your inbox. The group knows that you are a group member and as the originator, you have a copy in your sent mail folder, so it does not duplicate it in your inbox.

Anyone can send messages to the groups, but only the members will receive the message (i.e. someone in Admin Services can send a message to SPCR-EXEC@WYO.GOV, but they will not get any acknowledgement that it went, nor can they check the group page). All groups to which you are a member should show up on your "Google Groups" page, accessed by clicking 'More' and then 'Groups' at the top of your E-Mail inbox.
